

WALTER WORLS WINS.

Greer Defeated in His Race With Another Professional.

GREER'S BAD TUMBLE THE CAUSE

Of His Defeat—He Took Control of His Machine and Took a Tumble Over the Banks—He Responded Well to Words' Spurt, but Not Enough for Three Feet—First Header on a Safety.

Last night at the North End skating rink the bicycle race between Will Greer and Walter Worls for the professional championship of West Virginia and a stake, was won by Worls by about a yard.

The race was programmed to take place at 9 o'clock sharp, but on account of an accident to Worls' machine, it was nearly 10 when Starter Jake Loos dropped the flag. In the meantime the floor of the rink was occupied by a great throng of skaters, in fact there was an old fashioned revival of roller skating.

Just before the race the following officials were chosen: Referee, Jake Loos; timers, Frank Bolte and Bernard Krause; judges, Oscar Smith and Henry Gruber. Both men went onto the track for a practice spin, and Worls, in making the turn on the lower bank, took a nasty fall, which loosened his crank. It was not repaired in time for the race, and he took another and strange wheel. For this reason his friends did not expect to see him win the first heat.

Their expectations were fulfilled, as Greer took the lead at the start, and by rounding the banks in better shape than his opponent, maintained his lead to the finish, one mile—twenty laps—winning by about ten feet. Time, 3:06.

The second heat was the sensational one of the evening. Both men got away from the post in good shape, and Greer immediately started a sprint which some of the onlookers thought a little dangerous on the small track. He was going at a terrific rate on the lower bank when he lost control of his machine and with it went over the bank onto the floor beyond. It was about the

FIRST HEADER ON RECORD on a safety bicycle. Greer extricated himself and attempted to mount again, but a bent machine prevented it. In the meantime Worls kept plugging away and got a lead that was of course not within reach of his crippled opponent. The twenty laps were nearly completed by Worls when Greer again mounted and resumed. The time was 3:52.

After an intermission that was taken up by the skaters on the surface, the third and decisive heat was started. In this heat Worls had his own wheel, it having been repaired, and it was at once seen that he was capable of better work on it than on the one he rode in the two previously run heats. He soon led Greer by thirty feet and for several laps he maintained this distance. Then Greer began to pick up on his opponent and on entering the final lap both were even. It was in the spurt on leaving the lower bank that Worls won the race. It was a magnificent burst of speed to which Greer responded well, but not quite enough and Worls passed over the chalk line three feet ahead of Greer.

Last evening the unexpected took place in the shape of two defeats administered the crack Wheeling Bowling Club by the Calumet team of the bowling league. This puts the Wheeling Bowling Club aggregation out of the race for the league's championship pennant, and leaves the Columbia and South Side teams to battle for the tag, with the chances slightly in favor of the over-the-creek people. Both teams were short a man, and the "blind" was rolled. The poor work of the W. B. C. boys was a great surprise. Though a number of good individual scores were made, in the Myself and wife have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla for the past four months, and I can truly say that it has done us more good than any other medicine we have ever taken. I was troubled with dyspepsia for over two years. I also had a slight touch of consumption and was frequently out of duty.'"

I spent a good portion of my earnings for doctors' bills and other medicine which did me good only for a little time. My employers urged me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla so I bought one bottle and began its use about the first of April, at that time weighing only 120 pounds although my usual weight was 160 pounds. After using the bottle I felt that I was better, so I purchased five more bottles. I am taking the sixth bottle now and since commencing to take Hood's Sarsaparilla have had only one slight attack of ill-

IN THE SENATE.

The Seigniorage Bill to be Voted on To-day.

Mr. Sherman's Protest.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8.—At the expiration of the morning hour the Bland seigniorage bill was laid before the senate as unfinished business.

Mr. Sherman bitterly opposed the pending bill and expressed the hope that the motion to reconsider would prevail, as he wanted the bill open to amendments.

Mr. Harris claimed that the bill had reached its present stage through the regular channels of the senate procedure and he knew of no reason why the bill should not be disposed of within thirty minutes. He would not consent to reconsider the bill until the majority by a yea and nay vote decided it.

Mr. Sherman, an ominous frown on his brow, and speaking in an earnest, determined tone, reiterated the hope that the motion of Senator Allison would prevail, for there was no disposition on his part of the chamber to prevent the passage of the bill.

He was followed by Senators Lodge and Huggins. The bill went over until action until to-morrow when a vote will be taken. The senate adjourned at 4:30, after a brief executive session.

In the House.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8.—The President transmitted some additional Hawaiian correspondence to the house this morning. Mr. Richardson, of Tennessee, from the joint committee on expenditures in the executive departments, called up the bill to reform the methods of accounting and auditing in the customs department of the treasury. The bill abolishes the offices of commissioner and assistant commissioner of customs.

The discussion of the bill took a wide range and was participated in by Messrs. Baker, Henderson, Hepburn, Cannon and Dockery. The bill was passed.

THE MORGAN RESOLUTION.

The President's Response May Contain Interesting Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8.—The President has turned over to the secretary of state the preparation of an answer to the Morgan resolution, calling for information relative to the landing of British troops at Bluefields, Nicaragua. The matter is already under way and when the answer is complete, it will be submitted to the President and carefully considered by himself and Secretary Gresham.

No additional advices from Nicaragua were given out at the state department today, but there is reason to believe that the President is preparing for a vigorous and unmistakable assertion of the rights of the United States in Central America, and that the correspondence will include matters of later date than the brief report from Minister Baker of the landing of British troops.
